The Morse Museum, which celebrates its 75th anniversary this year, houses the world's most comprehensive collection of works by Louis Comfort Tiffany, including the chapel interior he designed for the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago and art and architectural elements from his Long Island estate, Laurelton Hall.

In the Museum's galleries, visitors will also find exhibits of American art pottery; Arts and Crafts furnishings; late 19th- and early 20th-century American paintings; and leaded-glass windows and lamps by other artists of the period. In two new exhibitions, the Museum celebrates Louis Comfort Tiffany's creative spirit and the creative process at Tiffany Studios. Louis Comfort Tiffany—Impressions on Film, Canvas, and Paper is an exhibition of Tiffany's personal photographs, paintings, and watercolors that provide an intimate view of the innovator who built the artistic empire of Tiffany Studios. Tiffany Studios Designs features drawings, photographs, and sketches for a selection of the astonishingly diverse and beautiful objects made by his firm.

Museum hours from November through April are 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday; 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and Saturday; and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. Regular admission is $6 for adults, $5 seniors, $1 for students, and free for children under 12. All visitors receive free admission from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Fridays.
